THE 40TH ANNUAL REPORT TO THE COMMUNITY
JULY 2025–JUNE 2026

The Community Foundation
OF FREDERICK COUNTY

DEAR SUPPORTERS, PARTNERS, AND FRIENDS,

Forty years ago, The Community Foundation of Frederick County began with a bold idea: that generosity, thoughtfully stewarded, could transform lives and strengthen our community for generations.

Today, that idea lives on through every donor who establishes a charitable fund, every volunteer who shares their expertise, every nonprofit that turns resources into action, and every community partner who helps identify needs and advance solutions. Together, we have helped countless people, supported causes throughout Frederick County and built charitable legacies that will make a difference for years to come.

As we celebrate our 40th anniversary, we do so with tremendous gratitude for all that has been built, and great excitement about what lies ahead.

In fiscal year 2026 alone, the Community Foundation distributed $2.6 million in scholarships to help students of all ages pursue their educational dreams and more than $8.8 million in grants to support nonprofits and charitable causes. We also partnered with Frederick County Government to quickly and efficiently distribute $1 million in grants addressing food insecurity in response to federal policy and program changes.

This year, we also refreshed our mission, vision and values to more clearly express who we are, what we believe and how we will serve Frederick County in the decades ahead. We upgraded our online giving platform to make supporting important causes easier, and we continued to deepen our role as a collaborator and convener.

That role reflects something fundamental about the Community Foundation: Our work is about relationships, not transactions. We provide critical funding. But we also help identify a need, convene the right people and connect ideas with resources. Often, we play several roles in a project or initiative. What matters is working together to create meaningful, enduring impact.

To our donors, fund representatives, volunteers, nonprofit partners, professional advisors and community collaborators: thank you. Your generosity, trust and partnership made these first 40 years possible.

We are proud of what we have accomplished together—but we are just getting started.

With gratitude and optimism,

FROM A SPARK TO A COMMUNITY CATALYST

40 YEARS OF GENEROSITY AND IMPACT

In 1986, a small group of community leaders believed Frederick County needed a way to bring people together, build charitable resources and make generosity last. Forty years later, that spark has grown into a powerful community catalyst—connecting donors, volunteers, nonprofits and partners to improve lives across Frederick County.

1986–1989
INSPIRING BELIEF

Introducing the power of collective giving

The Community Foundation's earliest years were devoted to turning an unfamiliar idea into a shared vision. Founders built support one conversation at a time, showing community leaders, donors and professional advisors how gifts invested together could create lasting good.

MILESTONE: The Community Foundation grew from an initial anonymous gift of $10,000 to more than $1 million in contributions, pledges and assets by 1989.

The first board of trustees meeting was held on Dec. 4, 1986 at the office of Linton, Shafer & Company.

THE 1990s
BUILDING A FOUNDATION

Strengthening trust, resources and capacity

With community support growing, the Community Foundation built the endowment, infrastructure and reputation needed to expand its work. More donors established funds, formal grantmaking took shape and the organization became known as a careful, trusted steward of charitable resources.

MILESTONE: By 1997, the Community Foundation had distributed more than $1 million in grants and scholarships.

In 1999, Community Foundation trustees helped the organization move to its new offices at 312 East Church St.

EXPANDING POSSIBILITY

Growing participation and impact

More donors, volunteers and community partners became part of the work. The number of charitable funds increased, grantmaking and scholarships expanded, and new initiatives, including field of interest funds and collective-giving programs, created more ways for people to make a difference.

MILESTONE: By 2007, 600 funds held $45 million in assets and had distributed more than $17 million in grants and scholarships.

Volunteers gather to deliberate grant awards in 2008.

2010–2026
LEADING TOGETHER

Connecting people, knowledge and resources

The Community Foundation emerged as a trusted leader in local philanthropy—guiding donors, strengthening nonprofits, convening partners and helping the community respond to both urgent needs and long-term challenges. Its fingerprints can now be found throughout Frederick County in education, human services, the arts, health, historic preservation and countless other areas of community life.

MILESTONE: In 2026, 850 charitable funds hold more than $230 million in assets and have distributed more than $122 million in grants and scholarships since 1986.

Community Foundation trustees celebrate the organization's 40th anniversary in September, 2026.

GRANTS

GENEROSITY IN ACTION

For 40 years, grants from The Community Foundation of Frederick County have helped turn generosity into meaningful action.

In fiscal year 2026, we awarded more than $8.8 million in grants to strengthen local nonprofits, respond to critical needs and create opportunities for people throughout Frederick County. Since 1986, that impact has grown to more than $84.8 million in grants invested in our community.

Behind every dollar is a donor who chose to make a difference—and volunteers who generously shared their time and insight to help ensure funding reached organizations doing vital work. We are deeply grateful for their commitment, which makes every grant and every story in these pages possible.

The data, stories and photographs that follow offer a glimpse of that generosity in action. Together, these grants address needs today, build capacity for tomorrow and demonstrate what can happen when people who care come together around a shared belief in a stronger Frederick County.

GENEROSITY IN ACTION:
EXPANDING THE MEANING OF EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY

For 40 years, The Community Foundation of Frederick County has helped local students pursue their potential. While post-secondary scholarships are among the most visible expressions of that commitment, the Community Foundation recognizes that education does not follow a single path.

In addition to traditional scholarships, the Community Foundation funds career and trades training, school-based programs and nonprofit initiatives that help students overcome obstacles to learning.

For young people experiencing homelessness, Student Homelessness Initiative Partnership's (SHIP) New Horizons program provides individualized case management and academic support. The program serves middle and high school students, young adults beginning college, and those reconnecting with education through GED or trades programs.

In fiscal year 2026, the Community Foundation provided more than $45,000 to New Horizons, helping fund the staff members who work directly with students to establish educational and personal goals and connect them with critical resources. Each student works with a case manager to develop a personalized service plan that includes at least three student-led goals, one of which must focus on education.

"There's not a one-size-fits-all approach," said Melissa Muntz, SHIP's executive director. "Every student we have experiencing homelessness has a completely different set of needs, hurdles and goals."

In spring 2026, 61 students receiving SHIP support graduated from high school. Of those, 42 planned to attend college, five were entering apprenticeships or trades programs and one planned to join the military.

"If we can keep students connected to school, they are more likely to break the cycle of homelessness and launch into adulthood successfully," Muntz said.

SHIP'S NEW HORIZONS PROGRAM

For other young people, the most promising educational path leads directly into the workforce. Empowered to Live, Inc.'s Project GUIDE helps people ages 16 to 24 make that transition through an eight-week construction pre-apprenticeship program.

Participants complete 144 hours of training and earn nationally recognized credentials, including OSHA 10 safety certification, forklift training and the National Center for Construction Education and Research core curriculum. They also receive financial literacy and life-skills instruction, individualized career coaching and practical support with needs such as driver's education, résumé development and interview preparation.

Project GUIDE Founder and Executive Director Tiffany Green describes the program as a "gap filler," helping young people navigate the space between high school and a career.

The Community Foundation provided more than $47,000 in fiscal year 2026 grants to support Project GUIDE training, industry-recognized certifications, participant stipends and other expenses. More than 50 young people applied for the program's 2026 summer cohort, and 17 enrolled. By graduation, each had a plan to pursue employment, an apprenticeship or additional education.

These grants are part of the Community Foundation's broad investment in educational opportunity, which also supported Boys and Girls Club of Frederick County; Spanish Speaking Communities of MD, Inc.; City Youth Matrix; Literacy Council of Frederick County, Inc.; and Urbana STEMM.

"If we can keep students connected to school, they are more likely to break the cycle of homelessness and launch into adulthood successfully."

GENEROSITY IN ACTION:
WORKING TOGETHER TO ADDRESS HUNGER

Food insecurity has no single cause or solution. Job loss, rising costs, reduced benefits, transportation barriers and unexpected crises can all make it difficult for families to afford food.

For 40 years, The Community Foundation of Frederick County has responded by supporting food banks, school pantries, shelters, meal programs and nonprofits serving residents throughout the county—while collaborating with community partners to address the broader forces contributing to hunger.

That collaborative role became especially important in 2026. As changes to federal food programs threatened to place greater pressure on local families and nonprofits, Frederick County Government committed $1 million to its Food Equity and Emergency Distribution (FEED) grant program. The Community Foundation administered the funding through two grant cycles, managing applications, coordinating community-informed reviews, vetting applicants and distributing awards.

"The Community Foundation allowed the County to move critical funding quickly, transparently, and with strong accountability," said Frederick County Executive Jessica Fitzwater. "Their involvement ensured that the initiative was not only fast, but also thorough and fair."

By pairing the County's public resources with the Community Foundation's grantmaking infrastructure, local knowledge and volunteer-led review process, funding quickly reached organizations prepared to respond to increasing needs.

"This partnership illustrates how powerful local collaboration can be when government and philanthropy combine their strengths," Fitzwater said.

That coordinated response complemented the Community Foundation's ongoing investments in food security. In 2026, grants supported programs at the Maryland Food Bank ($98,640), Frederick Rescue Mission ($50,000) and SOAR – Supporting Older Adults through Resources ($22,000), along with local pantries, shelters and organizations that provide meals within broader services for children, families and older adults.

The Community Foundation also awarded approximately $70,000 through 13 grants to Blessings in a Backpack Frederick Chapter, which provides weekend food for 3,400 children at 32 Frederick County schools.

APPROXIMATELY $70,000

AWARDED TO BLESSINGS IN A BACKPACK FREDERICK CHAPTER THROUGH 13 GRANTS

"One in five children in Frederick County is at risk of food insecurity, and that need exists in every community across the county," said Ashley Waters, DPA, the chapter's managing director.

Waters said Community Foundation funding provided more than 9,200 hunger-free weekends and helped Blessings expand into Thurmont Elementary School, filling an important service gap in northern Frederick County. Its school-based model brings food directly to children while reducing transportation barriers, particularly for rural families.

"Showing up for children every week requires consistent funding," Waters said. "And funding that allows us to serve children regardless of zip code is incredibly important."

From stocking pantries and providing weekend meals to partnering in a rapid, countywide response, these efforts demonstrate the power of sustained collaboration. Through generous donors and committed community partners, the Community Foundation helps meet immediate needs while building a stronger, more resilient Frederick County.

"Showing up for children every week requires consistent funding. And funding that allows us to serve children regardless of zip code is incredibly important."

GENEROSITY IN ACTION:
INVESTING IN MUSIC—AND EVERYTHING IT MAKES POSSIBLE

Music can launch a career, build confidence, create belonging and bring communities together. For 40 years, The Community Foundation of Frederick County has invested in those possibilities by supporting music education and performances throughout Frederick County.

At Gov. Thomas Johnson High School, Community Foundation grants help students explore a changing music industry and discover career paths they may not have known existed. Jonathan Kurtz, coordinator for the Academy for the Fine Arts, estimates that 80 to 100 students use the school's music technology and performance spaces annually, including students from high schools across Frederick County.

In each of the past two years, the school received a $4,000 grant to strengthen its music program. Funding replaced outdated composition software so students could write, arrange and print music for live performance, while also providing new amplifiers for jazz and small ensembles.

Kurtz said students are learning more than performance. They are writing and producing music, operating live events and exploring careers in composition, recording engineering and sound production—skills applicable to live entertainment, video games and digital media.

The Frederick Children's Chorus creates another kind of opportunity: a place for young people to develop their voices and find belonging. Executive Director Carrie Silver said approximately 100 families participate during the school year, while the organization's five weeks of summer camps served 127 young people during the past year.

Students receive vocal instruction while studying music theory, composers, history and languages and developing musicianship, leadership and collaboration skills. Silver said families consistently describe the chorus as a place where children feel included.

In fiscal year 2026, the Community Foundation provided $3,275 to help offset the costs of sheet music, guest musicians, venues, attire, staff and other program expenses. Scholarships, tuition assistance and free introductory classes make participation possible regardless of a family's circumstances.

PROVIDED TO THE FREDERICK CHILDREN'S CHORUS TO OFFSET THE COSTS OF PROGRAM EXPENSES

GreenSpring Foundation also combines music education with opportunities for the wider community to enjoy live performances. Since 2008, hundreds of young musicians have participated in its Maryland Summer Harp Institute in Thurmont. In 2026, GreenSpring also presented 21 free concerts featuring internationally acclaimed artists and emerging musicians.

"Community Foundation funding supports our programming, ensuring musical excellence and education is a community resource that serves all Frederick County families," said Lynnelle Ediger, GreenSpring Foundation's founder and executive director.

The Community Foundation provided $2,745 in fiscal year 2026 to support GreenSpring student scholarships and free performances. By removing admission fees, the organization allows more residents to experience world-class music close to home while strengthening Frederick County's cultural vitality.

These programs represent only part of the Community Foundation's investment in music. In fiscal year 2026, nine students received scholarships to study music in college, while grants supported the YMCA of Frederick County, Maryland Ensemble Theatre, Frederick Regional Youth Orchestra and other organizations—helping people discover their talents, build confidence and experience the connection music makes possible.

"Community Foundation funding supports our programming, ensuring musical excellence and education is a community resource that serves all Frederick County families."

SCHOLARSHIPS

INVESTING IN STUDENTS. STRENGTHENING FREDERICK COUNTY.

This year, we awarded a record $2.6 million in scholarships to help students pursue their dreams.

Over four decades, that investment has grown to more than $37 million, opening doors for students of all ages and at every stage of life.

Our scholars are recent high school graduates, current college students and adults returning to the classroom or preparing for new careers. They attend trade and technical schools, study music and the arts, and pursue traditional degree programs in nearly every imaginable field, both in Frederick County and beyond.

The impact does not end with a diploma or certification. Many scholars remain in or return to Frederick County, where they build careers, raise families, serve their neighbors and strengthen the community that invested in them. Some even return to the Community Foundation years, or decades, later to pay that generosity forward by giving back to the scholarship funds that once supported them.

When we invest in students and their aspirations, that investment comes home, building a stronger Frederick County for generations to come.

SCHOLAR SUCCESS STORIES

Learn more about our scholarship programs at FrederickCountyGives.org/Scholarship.

Sarah Weddle

Sarah Weddle discovered her love of baking at age 14, working the salad station and learning from the baker at a small restaurant in Thurmont. That early spark has carried her through more than a decade of working in professional kitchens, and thanks in part to scholarships from The U. Mehrl and Margaret T. Hooper Scholarship Fund and The R. Perry and Ethel Beckley Fund, she was able to turn that passion into a career.

A 2013 graduate of Catoctin High School, Sarah went on to L'Academie de Cuisine, graduating in December 2014 with a President's Award and Certificate of Completion. The scholarship she received helped make that training possible.

"My family always struggled financially, so I knew I'd have to support my career journey on my own, and [the scholarships] played a huge part in making that happen, and I will always appreciate that beyond words."

Sarah's career took off shortly after graduation. She began an externship at Sidney Willoughby Run, a fine-dining restaurant and wedding venue in Gettysburg. She worked her way up from pastry cook to head pastry chef, crafting scratch-made desserts, breads, and ice cream for two restaurant locations. She later joined Keystone Family Restaurant as a full-time baker. She was quickly promoted to kitchen manager, taking on catering, prep, and daycare lunch programs alongside her baking duties.

Today, Sarah works alongside a tight-knit team at Celebrations Catering.

Jasmine "Lolly" Simawang Winters

Jasmine "Lolly" Simawang Winters has spent more than a decade building a career in public accounting, rising through the ranks at one of the Big Four accounting firms while also growing her family.

A 2011 graduate of Frederick High School, Jasmine went on to American University, earning her Bachelor of Science in Accounting in 2014 with scholarship support from The William D. Hammond Scholarship Fund, The Rotary Club of Frederick First Century Trust Fund, The Ramona Corun Remsberg Scholarship Fund, and The Audrey Pressler Bauman Scholarship Fund to attend American University.

"My parents faced financial hardships, and I did not have enough money to cover college tuition without loans," Jasmine said. "The scholarships provided financial assistance, so I was able to avoid private loans and save up money from part-time jobs during my education to pay off my loans prior to any interest accruing."

"The scholarships made a direct financial impact, but more importantly provided me with financial security, which is priceless."

Jasmine joined Ernst & Young LLP after college and has spent the past 12 years building her career there, earning her CPA and rising to Senior Manager along the way.

Jasmine and her husband are raising their nine-month-old daughter, Lolly, and their dog Hunter, and she's focused on navigating life as a working mother while continuing to grow her career.

Ricky Ocampo

As a first-generation college student, Ricky Ocampo set his sights on attending Mount St. Mary's University, and scholarships from several Community Foundation funds helped him achieve that goal.

"These scholarships provided me with the financial support necessary to attend the Mount, giving me access to enriching academic and professional opportunities that would have been challenging to afford otherwise," Ricky said.

Ricky, a 2013 graduate of Frederick High School, earned his bachelor's degree in marketing from Mount St. Mary's University in 2017 with support from The Luster and Jean Oxley Scholarship Fund, The Sgt. David J. Smith Memorial Fund, The American Advertising Federation Scholarship Fund, and The William A. Simmons Scholarship Fund. He earned an MBA from American University in 2020.

Scholarship support opened the door to a career built on growth and reinvention. Ricky rose into leadership roles early on, was trusted to manage teams and drive results for some of the most recognizable brands in his field, and later made a bold pivot into pharmaceuticals. Along the way, he's helped launch a new skincare product, attended Oscar parties, and seen his work featured in publications like People magazine and on the TODAY show.

Alongside his work in pharmaceuticals, Ricky recently joined Indiana Tech as an adjunct faculty member teaching marketing.

"It meant a lot to me to know that I had the support of local donors who wanted to give back to their community. I was particularly grateful to meet many of them and thank them personally."

CORNERSTONE SOCIETY

EVERY FUND TELLS A STORY

For 40 years, people who care deeply about Frederick County have turned their generosity into action by creating charitable funds at the Community Foundation.

Each fund begins with a unique story—a life honored, a cause cherished, a need recognized or a hope for the future—and each reflects someone's desire to make a meaningful difference.

In fiscal year 2026, 30 new funds joined this remarkable collection of generosity. Together, our more than 850 active funds support students, strengthen nonprofits, respond to pressing needs and create opportunities throughout Frederick County. Some donors remain closely involved in their fund's grantmaking, while others trust the Community Foundation to carry out their charitable intentions. Many funds are endowed, ensuring that the generosity that created them continues making an impact year after year.

Individually, every fund has a distinct purpose. Collectively, they represent an extraordinary force for good—and powerful proof of what is possible when a community gives together.

FUND PERFORMANCE

Well-managed charitable funds benefit our community now and in perpetuity. Donors start funds with a minimum gift of $25,000 to benefit the causes that they choose. These funds are then invested, with a portion of the funds spent each year according to the spending policies that the donors choose at the time the funds are established.

Professional investment managers invest the Community Foundation's assets in accordance with the Community Foundation's investment policies. Investment performance is monitored and overseen by the Investment Committee, comprised of Community Foundation trustees and others with investment expertise. The Community Foundation's financial statements, including investments, contributions, and future interests, are audited annually by an independent auditor and are available for public review.

Investment Options

Hundreds of named Community Foundation funds are invested as follows:

THE GROWTH OPTION
Growth to a certain benchmark defines this option. Almost the entire portfolio is held in equities. When the fund reaches the intended benchmark, it is transferred to another investment option to start awarding scholarships and/or grants.

THE BALANCED GROWTH OPTION
Growing the fund at an acceptable level of risk defines this option that is generally used for permanent funds. This portfolio has tiered investments, with the majority in equities and smaller amounts in other instruments.

THE SUSTAINABLE FOCUS OPTION
Investing the fund's assets in a way that promotes positive social and environmental outcomes is important to the investment strategy. This portfolio invests in tiered investments, with the majority in equities and smaller amounts in other instruments, with investment decisions made with a sustainable focus.

THE MAINTENANCE OF PRINCIPAL OPTION
Preservation of principal is this option's only objective. This portfolio is held in money market accounts and certificates of deposit.

THE ALTERNATIVE INVESTMENT OPTION
Donors establishing a fund with $500,000 or more may recommend an investment manager and strategy, subject to the approval of the Community Foundation's Board of Trustees.

Administrative Budget

Because 100% of every donation is placed into a charitable fund according to the donor's instructions, the Community Foundation meets its operational expenses through:

THE ADMINISTRATIVE FUND
This permanent fund was created in 1990 to support the Community Foundation's operations and community education activities.

MISSION FEES
An annual mission fee is assessed on the market value of each component fund. Please see page 45, "Fund Types," for detailed information.

WIDENING CIRCLES AND PARTNERS IN PHILANTHROPY CAMPAIGN
This annual campaign raises money specifically for the Community Foundation to invest in community outreach to promote philanthropy. Individuals contribute to the Widening Circles campaign and businesses and civic societies contribute to the Partners in Philanthropy campaign.
