THE COMMUNITY FOUNDATION of FREDERICK COUNTY
For Good. Forever. For Frederick County.

34th Annual Report to the Community ♦ July 2019–June 2020

Dear Friends of the Community Foundation,

The writing of this letter finds us all in a world-wide pandemic, known as COVID-19. The good news is while the pandemic has upended our lives, the “new normal” to which we are adapting has already proven that #NothingStopsPhilanthropy.

During FY2020, the Community Foundation raised money for The Forever Frederick County Fund, our unrestricted endowment that will support our community's most pressing situations as they arise. The first grants toward our new areas of strategic focus were launched: supporting families with children, preparing for an aging population, and responding to substance use disorder. COVID-19 emergency grant funding was distributed to nonprofits that were on the front lines helping people cope with the loss of employment, housing, childcare, and much more. All the while, our other strategic and impact grantmaking and scholarship programs were alive and well, with many volunteers behind the scenes ensuring the money went into the community and scholars received support for their studies.

#NothingStopsPhilanthropy was again proven by the 1,850 donors who made 3,785 gifts to one or more of our 740 funds, with most gifts going to our existing endowment that spends 5 percent of the annual market value on grants and scholarships. There were 430 scholarships presented to 314 students in support of their post-secondary efforts, and grants benefited more than 280 nonprofits serving in the areas of health and human services, youth programs, elder care, the arts, civic causes, animal well-being, historic preservation, the environment, basic human needs, and more.

While this report highlights the accomplishments of FY2020, we want you to know we are paying attention to how #NothingStopsPhilanthropy is reflected in our effort to be diverse, equitable, and inclusive to people of all ages, races, and genders. Our board of trustees, staff, and volunteers are working together to create meaningful and systemic change to ensure that Frederick County is an inclusive community where every person is regarded with dignity and respect and that everything we do as an organization reflects this commitment.

Thank you for your faithful and unwavering support. We are proud to be your trusted partner in carrying out your philanthropic goals. Because of you, #NothingStopsPhilanthropy.

FOREVER FREDERICK COUNTY

Gordon M. Cooley, Campaign Chairman

THE FOREVER FREDERICK COUNTY CAMPAIGN

The Community Foundation launched its unrestricted endowment campaign in June 2019 to establish a flexible and sizable endowment fund to prepare for the future. Grants from the Forever Frederick County Funds will help address the most pressing issues in our community now, and as they evolve and change over time. Preparedness is key, and the Forever Frederick County Funds will help ensure that solutions can be achieved more quickly.

Grantmaking is currently driven by data from the 2018 Frederick County Human Needs Assessment Study, and similar studies will be used going forward. The board of trustees is committed to being proactive in its approach to use available funding wisely and most impactfully.

For more information about how you can help, visit www.ForeverFrederickCounty.org, or call our office at 301.695.7660 for a confidential conversation with our staff.

Dear Friends,

Can you envision Frederick County being a place where everyone is safe and secure, with ample resources available when help is needed? I can, and that's my motivation for chairing the Forever Frederick County campaign. I believe wholeheartedly that building this fund will make a difference in our community in the years to come.

When the Community Foundation's board of trustees embarked on the Forever Frederick County Campaign last year, we knew we had our work cut out for us. We also knew that Frederick County's history of giving was strong, so we kicked off the $20 million campaign with great enthusiasm and optimism.

Almost simultaneously last fall, our Grants Committee accepted applications for funding in our three new areas of strategic focus: supporting families with children, preparing for a growing aging population, and responding to substance use disorder. These new strategic areas were the result of the 2018 Frederick County Human Needs Assessment (see page 9) and are the first examples of how the campaign will focus its grantmaking on Frederick County's greatest needs as they evolve.

Little did we know that in our first year of fundraising and grantmaking in these new strategic areas, our world would be turned upside down with the COVID-19 pandemic. Our community came together yet again and, through generous donors who trust our abilities, the Community Foundation was nimble and responsive to an unpredicted and sudden situation that affected every single person in some way.

We want to be fully prepared in the future. A fully endowed Forever Frederick County Fund of $20 million will ensure the board's ability to act immediately in situations like COVID-19, and would have provided $1 million for immediate, local use.

Thank you for supporting the Forever Frederick County campaign, and thank you to the donors who have already given or pledged support; their names are found on page 8. While we have raised just over $15 million in current gifts and pledges, successor gifts and planned gifts (as of June 30, 2020), there is much work to be done to reach our goal. I hope you will be a part of ensuring that Frederick County is forever.

CHANGING LIVES THROUGH FOREVER FREDERICK COUNTY

The Getting Ahead Program is an internationally used tool that Seton Center in Emmitsburg has offered for nearly four years. Over a 16 to 20-week period, participants learn to build a better life for themselves and their families through curriculum education, discussion, and activities. The program is unique in that it is “agenda-free,” meaning that participants learn, through a peer-supported environment, to design their own arguments for change by learning to use community resources, develop networking skills, and how to cope with change to create stability in their life. Since 2016, 41 people in northern Frederick County have graduated.

This man, Greg, graduated from the Getting Ahead program several years ago. He has progressed from a minimum wage job to a secure, well-paying position with an armored car company and is soon advancing his career with a new job at the Museum of the Bible in Washington, D.C. Greg has also found affordable housing for his family and is working towards becoming a homeowner. In his spare time, he gives back by volunteering with the local fire department. He is also very proud of recently acquiring a new vehicle.

With the success of the program, Sr. Martha Beaudoin, Seton Center executive director, applied for and received a grant from The Supporting Families with Children Strategic Initiatives Fund, one of the Community Foundation’s new strategic areas of focus. The grant helped with plans to expand the program to other areas of Frederick County in partnership with several nonprofits and educational institutions, with a focus on ALICE (Asset Limited, Income Constrained, Employed) families, and provided a vital tool for financially struggling families.

Greg’s journey to self-sufficiency is an example of how gifts to the Forever Frederick County Fund will serve to improve people’s lives and create long-lasting, positive change.

FOREVER FREDERICK COUNTY

The Community Foundation is proud to recognize the following Forever Frederick County Campaign Funds and donors who have supported the campaign with gifts of $1,000 or more, as of August 13, 2020.

GRANTS

YMCA of Frederick County Camp West Mar

In FY2020, #NothingStopsPhilanthropy was big and bold, with more than $5.4 million in grant distributions. Grants were made possible by generous donors through unrestricted, donor-advised, designated, field of interest, agency, and fiscal sponsorship funds.

The following pages are a sampling of the grants provided that supported hundreds of programs. Grants impacted health and human services, youth programs, the arts, historic preservation, agriculture, civic groups, faith-based organizations, educational programs, agriculture, animal well-being, and much more. Thanks to the hard work of nonprofit staffs and volunteers, and the generosity of our donors, Frederick County benefited in countless ways.

Photos that include a green "Forever Frederick County" sign bring attention to the Community Foundation's first year of grantmaking in our new strategic areas of supporting families with children, preparing for an aging population, and responding to substance use disorder. Because most of these first-year grants were focused on capacity-building, staff from each organization is pictured.

The Three C's: COVID, Collaboration and Continuity

So much has happened within Frederick County as a result of COVID-19. More than 4,379 people in our community have tested positive for the virus, 127 have died, and everyone—from infants to the elderly—have been and continue to be affected in some way.¹

The Community Foundation was a leader in responding to this crisis. When the pandemic began, Betsy Day, president and CEO, immediately pulled together the COVID-19 Philanthropic Funders Collaborative, consisting of major local funders within Frederick County. These organizations worked together to respond quickly and decisively, and through a coordinated effort of a single online grant application, Collaborative members could align their funding appropriately, without duplication. Throughout March, April, May, and June 2020, nearly $1.3 million was distributed from the Collaborative members.

Given the unprecedented situation the pandemic caused, the Community Foundation had to prioritize its emergency grantmaking. Most immediately, it focused on emergency relief grants to local nonprofits who operated essential programs for vulnerable populations such as food distribution, emergency shelter, medical needs (including behavioral health), and more.

As events unfolded, it was clear the pandemic was creating long-term problems. Unemployment and personal loss of income, lost business revenue, and stress from extended isolation at home topped the list. The Community Foundation began to consider sustainability and how grants could help the community maintain some sense of normalcy. In addition to grants that continued supporting emergency relief for basic human needs, and things such as a quarantine and isolation shelter for first responders and healthcare workers, grants also helped local arts organizations keep the arts alive and accessible virtually, providing an emotional and creative outlet for many. Some organizations purchased supplies and distributed art kits and projects for children to help keep them engaged while parents worked from home. Other grants helped nonprofits expand their accessibility through updated phone systems that enabled encrypted calls and texting and the ability for staff to access these services at home. Still, other transitions to virtual systems allowed people needing mental health assistance or who were dealing with issues such as domestic violence or substance use disorder to access these services. From March through June 2020, $421,944 was distributed directly from Community Foundation funds.

Because of groundwork laid in recent years with local funding groups, the Community Foundation was a catalyst in the COVID crisis and the call for action, again demonstrating its ability to be nimble in addressing the needs of Frederick County. The Community Foundation and the COVID-19 Philanthropic Funders Collaborative were able to help nonprofits maintain their continuity of services and cope with the significant increase of emergency needs, generate new sources of funding, and contribute to maintaining some normal life activities for people, community-wide.

The photos on pages 13, 14, and 15 represent a sampling of the grants provided by The Community Foundation's COVID-19 Emergency Relief Campaign.

COVID-19 GRANTS

6 Brunswick Main Street used its grant to provide 11 grants of $1,000 each to help businesses in its downtown with expenses and loss of revenue during the pandemic.

7 Numerous small businesses in downtown Frederick received grants to help with expenses because of lost business created by the pandemic.

8 I Believe in Me, a youth mentoring organization, partnered with City Youth Matrix and used its grant to provide Hope Buckets to keep families engaged during the pandemic. 9 One of the effects of COVID-19 and the stay-at-home order was a surge in domestic violence because of increased time and stress at home. Heartly House received grant funding to purchase a new phone system that would provide more options for victims to contact Heartly House in secure, encrypted ways, and also allow staff much greater remote ability to assist the victims.

10 Frederick Community Action Agency created an emergency food distribution program with its grant to help those in need during the pandemic. The program included mobile food drops to vulnerable populations and take-out meals from its soup kitchen.

11 The YMCA of Frederick County utilized its grant to convert Camp West Mar to a family shelter during the pandemic. Staff from Frederick County Head Start, a program managed by the YMCA in collaboration with the Religious Coalition for Emergency Human Needs, helped the children staying at Camp West Mar with activities to keep them engaged and reduce stress.

12 February Star Sanctuary, a cat and horse rescue farm, received a grant that allowed it to accept Frederick, a horse whose owners had to surrender him because they could not afford his feed and vet bills. The grant also helped purchase cat food for Sanctuary's animal food bank.

13 The Claggett Center, in partnership with the Frederick County government, used its event center and sleeping rooms to operate a non-congregate quarantine and isolation shelter for county first responders and healthcare workers during the pandemic. The grant assisted with the operational expenses.

GRANT SAMPLER

1 The Kids Growing with Grains program, provided by the Frederick County Extension Office, was offered to Frederick County Title 1 schools to teach students about grain production and how it ties to the food they eat. With the pandemic in the spring of 2020, field trips were not possible, so an interactive online program was developed and sent to teachers. Grants from The Enhancing Agriculture Field of Interest Fund and The AG-C.I.T.E. Fund supported the program.

2 The Animal Welfare League of Frederick County coordinated foster parents to bottle feed kittens whose mothers could not be found. Once old enough, they were spayed or neutered, microchipped and vaccinated, and became available for adoption. A grant from The Nathan G. McDaniel Fund for The Animal Welfare League of Frederick County supported this program as the kittens awaited their forever home.

3 The first grant from The Claire McCardell Project Fund, established by The Frederick Art Club, supported the creation of a statue honoring the iconic fashion designer Claire McCardell. The statue will be installed in 2021 at the east end of Carroll Creek Linear Park in Frederick.

4 New Hope United Methodist Church (formerly First United Methodist Church of Brunswick) received a grant from The Edgar and Geraldine Virts Fund for First United Methodist Church of Brunswick that supported its children and family ministries. Activities included gift wrapping and preparing Valentine's Day dinner for veterans, summer read-a-thon, and more to encourage fellowship.

5 School-readiness for children entering kindergarten is extremely important to ensure their social and emotional development, language, literacy, math, science, and other skills are ready. Several children attending Calvary United Methodist Church's Weekday School received scholarship assistance with a grant from The Charles V. and Louise D. Main Endowment Fund.

6 Aging in place is important for Frederick County seniors. With the help of a grant from The Frederick Jaycees Fund, Habitat for Humanity of Frederick County was able to improve this local couple's home by installing handrails on their steps and repairs in their bathroom, including a grab bar and ADA compliant toilet.

7 Heritage Frederick received two grants in support of garden projects. A grant from The Mary Gregg Cornish Memorial Fund supported educational programming in two new garden spaces: Story Time Garden and Medicinal Garden. A grant from The Don Doughty and Linda Moran Fund supported garden and streetscape improvements for its Church Street property.

8 A grant from The Mark and Susan Butt Saturday Mornings Fund provided more than 450 foster families with toys, gift cards, holiday items, and other necessities for children and youth in foster care, seniors, and vulnerable adults during the recent holiday season.

14 With 15 successful years of providing services to children and their caretakers, Children of Incarcerated Parents Partnership needed to move from using the founder's home as its base of operations to its own office space. This was accomplished in part with a grant from The Supporting Families with Children Strategic Initiatives Fund. In addition, a grant from The Leslie Ruby and Howard Looney Community Fund assisted.

15 Centro Hispano de Frederick's programs include helping those age 60+ age in place, and a grant from The Preparing for An Aging Population Strategic Initiatives Fund assisted with its data collection efforts to improve services for a growing elderly Hispanic population in Frederick County.

16 Crossed Bridges, an organization devoted to helping those with substance use disorder, partnered with Frederick County Health Department to promote "Frederick County Goes Purple." This grassroots call to action, which helped bring community awareness about the opioid crisis and substance use disorders was supported with a grant from The Responding to Substance Use Disorder Strategic Initiatives Fund.

17 Warrior Canine Connection (WCC) received grants from The Sgt. David J. Smith Memorial Fund and The Cresap's Rifles Post 78, 29th Division Fund. The Community Foundation conducts two annual competitive grant cycles for nonprofits working to have an impact on Frederick County. The Strategic Grants are currently focused on outcome-driven projects that will help accomplish our strategic initiatives in the areas of supporting families with children, preparing for an aging population, and responding to substance use disorder. Impact Grants are for any project that will make a critical difference in Frederick County. Both of these types of grants are made possible by the Community Foundation's funding partners, unrestricted funds, selected donor-advised funds, and field of interest funds. The Strategic and Impact grant cycles open in the summer of each year with grant decisions announced in the fall. Other grant opportunities are available throughout the year and are referred to as "rolling grants." Prospective grantees are encouraged to check the website periodically for funding opportunities. All applications are completed online at www.FrederickCountyGives.org/Grants.

The Community Foundation's Grants Committee carefully reviews each application for the merit of the proposal and compliance with the fund's criteria for grantmaking. SCHOLARSHIP SUCCESS STORIES

CARMEN KAARID

Carmen says the scholarships she received allowed her the opportunity to explore her path and discover her passion for public policy and advocacy. A 2012 graduate of Urbana High School, she earned an associate degree from Frederick Community College. Initially a nursing major, Carmen realized in her first year that her talents were better suited to a non-health care field and decided that social work would provide the opportunity to help others and was more aligned with her skills and abilities. She then earned a Bachelor of Arts in Social Work from the University of Maryland, Baltimore County (UMBC), and then a Master of Social Work from UMBC. Carmen is employed as a legislative services coordinator for the Montgomery County Council and is serving a three-year term as a commissioner for the Frederick County Commission for Women. She says her goal in life is to serve others by developing and advocating for policy and legislation, especially issues that affect women. Her future career plans include election to public office. Carmen's success was helped with scholarships from The George Wesley Gilbert Memorial Scholarship Fund and The Margaret E. Brust Nursing Scholarship Fund.

JARED HARSHMAN

Jared says that because of the financial boost provided by scholarships from the Community Foundation, his career possibilities are limitless. Jared's dream was to attend Oklahoma State University, a mid-west school known for its agricultural program and one of the largest land-grant schools in the nation. He did just that, after graduating from Linganore High School in 2014. He earned his Bachelor of Science in Animal Science with a minor in Agriculture Economics, and in July 2020, graduated again with a Master of Science, concentrating in swine nutrition. During his time as a graduate assistant, he facilitated research trials at Oklahoma State University's Swine Research and Education Center and assisted with classroom and laboratory teaching. Jared's career goal of working with a major food company specializing in swine species was helped with scholarships from The Gene, Evelyn and Ernest Family Scholarship Fund II, The Jacob W. Hubble Memorial Scholarship Fund, The Edward D. Grove, Sr. Scholarship Fund, and The Frederick County Agriculture Scholarship Fund.

MICHELLE MOLINA

Michelle graduated from Urbana High School in 2012 and then earned a degree in early childhood education from the University of Maryland, College Park in 2016. Since then, she has been teaching second grade for Montgomery County Public Schools. Michelle says the scholarships she received from The Mary E.M. and Ruth E. Smith Scholarship Fund and The Don and Rosa Rippeon Scholarship Fund alleviated her family's financial burden of attending college and allowed her to pursue her passion for teaching. Currently, Michelle is pursuing a Master's degree in curriculum and instruction with a focus on educational leadership at McDaniel College. She plans to move into school administration and her future dream is opening a school.

CAROLINE STRAKONSKY

As the daughter of two professional educators, it's no surprise that Caroline decided to pursue a career in education, too. After graduating from Frederick High School in 2016, Caroline earned a degree in elementary education from High Point University, graduating during the COVID-19 pandemic. Caroline says the scholarships she received from The Mary E.M. and Ruth E. Smith Scholarship Fund helped her to believe in her abilities because of this hometown support, and they also inspired her during her student teaching experience to be the best she could be. In the fall of 2020, Caroline began her career as a 3rd-grade reading and writing teacher at Deer Crossing Elementary in Frederick County. Her future plans include earning a Master's Degree in Educational Leadership, then pursuing a doctorate to become a district superintendent, followed by state superintendent, as she wants to make a positive difference in school systems for students and teachers, especially those with economic and specialized needs.

JIMMY LIU

Jimmy graduated from Urbana High School in 2012, and with the help of a scholarship from The Michael David Hendrix Memorial Scholarship Fund, graduated from the University of Maryland, College Park with a Bachelor of Science degree in Chemical and Biomolecular Engineering. Jimmy says that the scholarship allowed him the freedom to grow as a person by volunteering as an after-school tutor in District of Columbia public schools because his financial burden was less. Currently, Jimmy is pursuing his Ph.D. in biology at Johns Hopkins University through the graduate partnership program at the National Institutes of Health. He is currently working on uncovering the molecular basis of a spectrum of rare neurological disorders that include spastic paraplegia type-39, Gordon-Holmes, Boucher-Neuhauser, Laurence-Moon, and Oliver-McFarlane syndromes. His long-term goals include helping to improve health care and lives throughout the world, whether through post-doctorate study or a career in the health care industry.

BRADLEY STONE

Bradley graduated from Brunswick High School in 2016 and then earned his Bachelor of Science in Exercise Science from Towson University in 2020, during the COVID-19 pandemic. A scholarship from The Lisa A. Orndorff Lajewski Memorial Scholarship Fund helped with the costs of books, lab fees, and tuition. He chose exercise science as his major because it provided a wide spectrum of study including personal training, dietetics, physical therapy, and cardiac rehabilitation. During his college years, Bradley worked with Chesapeake Bay Aquatic and Physical Therapy as a physical therapy technician, gaining valuable experience. Currently, Bradley is training for his EMT-B certification and is volunteering with the United Steam Fire Engine Company, earning patient care experience hours towards his goal of returning to Towson to become a physician's assistant.

CORNERSTONE SOCIETY

The Cornerstone Society recognizes those who plan to leave a legacy of giving after they are gone by entrusting the Community Foundation with a planned gift.

These members ensure that #NothingStopsPhilanthropy in Frederick County by leaving a future gift to support education, health care, youth programs, elder care, the arts, historic preservation, families with children, and much more.

Planned gifts can be established through bequests, charitable trusts, charitable gift annuities, estate or retirement plans, or life insurance policies. Your professional advisor, along with the Community Foundation, can help determine the gift that best suits your charitable goals.

Thank you, Cornerstone Society members, for planning your philanthropy beyond your lifetime and for your generous support and the trust you have placed in the Community Foundation to carry out your charitable goals.

CORNERSTONE SOCIETY

"After my husband Bill passed away, I wanted to honor him. We founded and were partners in a greyhound rescue organization for 11 years, and we loved this volunteer work. Even though Bill had a long commute and full-time job with the U.S. Government, we still found time to train and care for our rescue dogs, and Bill made home visits and worked with those who adopted the dogs. Then Bill was diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease and after several years we had to close the rescue. Now, through The William and Hettie Ballweber Fund, grants will support proactive initiatives around canine welfare. After my lifetime, my planned gift to the Community Foundation will continue in perpetuity to help others who do the selfless work of caring for rescue dogs. I can't think of a better way to leave this life."

"The Community Foundation has provided a way for us to be one of the threads in the fabric of giving back to others and helping them. When Don Linton, Charlie Main, and Jerry Offutt started the organization, we thought it was a good idea and that has proven to be true. It's a way to do our part, and another really great thing about Frederick County."

PROFESSIONAL ADVISOR COUNCIL

Formed in 2009, the Frederick County Professional Advisor Council is comprised of attorneys, accountants, trust officers, financial planners, certified life underwriters, investment advisors, and other certified, licensed and degreed professionals who advise on financial and legal decisions that may include charitable giving.

Each professional helps promote philanthropy in the community by sharing their expertise and helping donors create maximum return on their charitable investment. These investments benefit future generations with scholarships for students and grants for nonprofits.

As a confidante of client assets, professional advisors are uniquely qualified to help guide charitable giving, whether current or through a planned gift. Bequests, personal property or real estate, securities, life insurance, retirement assets, or annuities or trusts are all ways to assist clients who wish to create and leave a legacy.

The Frederick County Professional Advisor Council provides a variety of resources to support charitable giving, including in-depth information and calculators in the “Advisor” section of the Community Foundation website, multi-disciplinary, collegial networking, and in-person educational meetings that cover a variety of topics related to philanthropy.

As our partnership grows and membership in the Council expands, we look forward to continuing our work with the Council and invite other professional advisors who would like to become involved to contact the Community Foundation.

HOW TO START YOUR OWN FUND

What are your goals?

Do you want to make your gift now, or establish your fund with a planned gift? Do you want to provide grants and/or scholarships now or after your passing? Either way, establishing a fund with the Community Foundation is a wonderful way to sustain a cause that is near and dear to you, support specific areas of education, honor loved ones or establish a legacy. Once you've decided on your goals, the Community Foundation staff can help you determine the type of fund that will ensure your charitable goals are met.

NEXT, DETERMINE A SUITABLE NAME FOR THE FUND.

There are many ways to name a fund. Many funds include the donor's name or name(s) of those being honored by the fund. Some fund names reference the specific cause or organization they benefit.

WHAT TYPE OF GIFT WOULD YOU LIKE TO USE TO START THE FUND?

While many funds are started with gifts of cash totaling $25,000 or more, non-cash gifts such as real estate, securities or life insurance are also options. For gifts of $500,000 or more, you may recommend an investment professional outside of the Community Foundation's investment pool, pending certain criteria. Your financial advisors can help you determine what type of gift to use, and the Community Foundation encourages you to consult with them prior to making your gift.

HOW INVOLVED DO YOU WANT TO BE WITH THE FUND?

Do you want to review grant applications? Do you want to sit on a scholarship selection committee? Do you want the comfort of knowing that a check is sent to your favorite cause each year? Do you want your family to be involved with the fund after your passing? Your intended involvement helps to determine the type of fund that you choose.

IF YOU'D LIKE TO CONTRIBUTE LESS THAN $25,000, DON'T WORRY.

You can "plant a seed" by starting a fund and becoming a member of the Acorn Society. Simply select a name for the fund and agree to grow the fund to at least $25,000 within two years or less. Once your fund reaches $25,000, disbursements can be made. Other ways to create impact include contributing to a field of interest fund or any of our other funds, or establishing your legacy by deciding on a planned gift. No matter how much you decide to contribute, the Community Foundation makes the act of giving easy.

Mrs. Collmus founded The Dwight and Serene Q. Collmus Family Fund through her estate provisions to support the Community Foundation's activities as a donor-advised fund for 15 years. After that time, the fund will support the Community Foundation's strategic grantmaking as an unrestricted fund.

TYPES OF FUNDS

The Community Foundation of Frederick County holds two categories of funds: permanent funds and pass through funds. Permanent funds generally never spend the initial gift and subsequent gifts, with a portion of the fund supporting the charitable purpose defined by the fund's founding donor. Permanent funds include endowed funds and quasi-endowed funds. Endowed funds distribute 5 percent of the annual market value, never invading gift principal. Quasi-endowed funds distribute 5 percent of the fund's annual market value each year. Pass through funds may distribute all gifts as well as the investment return for the charitable purpose. Permanent funds and pass through funds may be any of the following types of funds: designated, unrestricted, donor-advised, scholarship, field of interest, agency, or fiscal sponsorship. For more information about types of funds, please see page 84.

PROPERTY YOU CAN USE TO CREATE YOUR FUND

Some people have asked if the Community Foundation accepts only cash contributions. The answer is no. There are many ways to establish a fund. Some ideas you may wish to consider are listed here.

CASH

You may establish your fund by giving a check to the Community Foundation. You receive the maximum tax deduction for your contribution in the year you make it. Any unused deduction can ordinarily be used over the five succeeding years.

SECURITIES

You may donate securities to your fund. You get the maximum tax deduction, equal to the current value of the securities. If that deduction is larger than what you can use in the year of your gift, the excess amount may ordinarily be deducted over the five succeeding years.

If the securities are appreciated, you pay no capital gains tax. If you own depreciated securities, it may be best if you sell them, take the loss for personal income tax purposes, and contribute the proceeds to the Community Foundation.

REAL ESTATE

Your real estate holdings can also benefit charity. Gifts of long-term appreciated real estate offer advantages similar to gifts of appreciated securities. Real estate will be accepted by the Community Foundation if it is readily saleable and does not require long-term management. You are required to obtain an appraisal to establish the value of the real estate for your tax deduction.

LIFE INSURANCE

You may donate your life insurance policy to your fund. You receive an immediate tax deduction, usually in an amount equal to the cash surrender value. If you wish to keep the policy in force, your continued premium payments are tax deductible if the Community Foundation is the owner of the policy. If you don't want to give up the policy, you can name the Community Foundation as a full or partial beneficiary.

ART AND OTHER TANGIBLE PERSONAL PROPERTY

You may use your paintings, sculptures, jewelry, etc. to establish a charitable fund as long as the property can be sold easily. You will be responsible for obtaining an appraisal to establish the value of the personal property for your tax deduction. You can start a named fund for as little as $25,000—using cash, securities, real estate, life insurance, art, or other assets.

HOW TO START YOUR OWN FUND

AT A GLANCE

Establish a new fund with the minimum gift of $25,000. If your gift is less than $25,000, you may make the gift to an existing fund or become an Acorn Society Member.

- Decide whether to make your gift now or later
- Name the fund
- Select the gift to be given
- Determine the type and purpose of the fund
- Take advantage of the Community Foundation's "$500,000 policy" to recommend an investment professional outside of the Community Foundation's investment pool
- Decide on life income interest (if any)

Consult your professional advisor. The Community Foundation staff can provide details about each gift type, but does not give legal or tax advice. You are urged to consult with your attorney, banker, accountant, or financial planner before making a gift or establishing a fund.

SOME EXAMPLES OF WAYS YOU CAN ESTABLISH OR EXPAND YOUR FUND:

OUTRIGHT GIFT DURING YOUR LIFETIME

An outright gift is the simplest of all gifts to make and can be made now. It provides the greatest and most immediate support. The most common way to make an outright gift is a gift of cash, which can be used to establish your own fund, or can be added to an existing fund. In addition to a gift of cash, outright gifts can be in the form of publicly-traded securities or by transferring other assets directly to the Community Foundation.

BEQUEST

Perhaps you are making decisions on a new will. You have taken care of all the usual details, assigned sentimental possessions, and provided for relatives.

You can stipulate that all remaining assets go to create your fund or to add to an existing fund, possibly significantly reducing the taxes payable by your estate. Your fund will support community needs in your name permanently.

Or, you simply write a codicil (amendment) to your existing will. You state that in addition to or instead of certain provisions of that will, you would like to leave the remaining assets, or a specific dollar amount, to the Community Foundation for whatever purpose you determine. Your lawyer can assist you in making this change. The Community Foundation also has suggested language for making provisions in your will.

LIFE INCOME (CHARITABLE REMAINDER) TRUST

You may have achieved a fairly comfortable accumulation of assets, but would like an income for yourself, your spouse, or other beneficiaries for the rest of your lives. Ultimately you want charity to benefit from your estate.

You can establish a charitable remainder trust that pays you and/or your designees for your lifetimes, with the remainder of the trust going to your fund. You receive a substantial income tax deduction and estate taxes will be reduced upon your death. If you prefer, you can establish a charitable remainder trust in your will, providing a life income for surviving beneficiaries. Because of the charitable estate tax deduction, the surviving beneficiaries may receive a larger income than would otherwise be possible.

Two Types of Charitable Remainder Trusts:

Annuity Trust—A fixed income trust from which you or your beneficiaries will receive a set amount each year.

Unitrust—A variable income trust from which you or your beneficiaries will receive a percentage of the trust's assets. Changes in the asset value of the trust will affect the level of your income each year.

The minimum amount recommended for a charitable remainder trust is $100,000.

The Cecil K Holter, Jr. and Charlotte S. Holter Memorial Scholarship Fund was founded by the Holter's sons, C. Kurt Holter and Eric Holter, to honor their parent's love of family, commitment to education, and devotion to children and youth.

CHARITABLE LEAD TRUST

You may have provided for your children already or you may want to provide for your children in the future, but not now. With a charitable lead trust, you donate part of your estate to the trust now, and the income goes to your fund for a designated period of years. Your taxes are reduced and the property is not taxed to your children. After a period of time that you specify, the trust terminates and the assets go to your children. The charity benefits during all those years and your children may receive much more than they would have otherwise.

GIFTS FROM AN ESTATE OR TRUST

As the Personal Representative under a will, you are directed to allocate a certain amount of money for general charitable purposes. Some professional guidance may be helpful to you.

You may set up a fund within the Community Foundation in the name of the deceased. With the approval of the court, if necessary, you arrange to have the charitable portion of the estate paid to this fund. The Community Foundation would then assume the responsibility of carrying out the deceased's charitable interests.

ASSIGNMENT OF TRUST FUND INCOME

You may be the beneficiary of a trust which pays you a regular income. Even though you may give some of this income to charity, you may not receive maximum tax benefits.

If you assign to your fund a portion of this annual income for the benefit of charity, you pay no further tax on this income. In addition, you may take an immediate income tax deduction for the value of this assignment. If this deduction is more than you can use in the year of the assignment, the excess may ordinarily be deducted over the five succeeding years.

CORPORATE FUNDS

Perhaps you are an executive in a business or corporation, responsible in part for corporate giving. How do you sift through the blizzard of charitable appeals?

You can establish a fund with the Community Foundation, either in the name of the corporation or an anonymous name. The Community Foundation then distributes the gift for you, relieving you of this burden.

TRANSFER YOUR FOUNDATION'S ASSETS

If you are a trustee of a private foundation, you may establish a fund within the Community Foundation in the name of the private foundation. After arranging to transfer all or part of the assets of the foundation to the fund, the Community Foundation takes care of all the paperwork required by the government. Investments are handled by experienced people. Taxes are no longer imposed, and the amount available for charity is increased. You are secure in knowing that the fund will be administered permanently by the Community Foundation.

TRANSFER A CHARITABLE ORGANIZATION'S ASSETS

Perhaps you are on the board of directors of a charitable organization which is terminating. You may create a fund within the Community Foundation in the name of your organization. You liquidate the assets in accordance with all laws and IRS regulations and transfer them to the fund, specifying that the income will be used only for grants in a similar field of interest. The mission of your organization is thereby continued in perpetuity.

FUND PERFORMANCE

Well-managed charitable funds benefit our community now and in perpetuity. Donors start funds with a minimum gift of $25,000 to benefit the causes that they choose. These funds are then invested, with a portion of the funds spent each year according to the spending policies that the donors choose at the time the funds are established.

Professional investment managers invest the Community Foundation’s assets in accordance with the Community Foundation’s investment policies. Investment performance is monitored and overseen by the Investment Committee, comprised of Community Foundation trustees and others with investment expertise. The Community Foundation’s financial statements, including investments, contributions, and future interests, are audited annually by an independent auditor and are available for public review.

INVESTMENT OPTIONS

Hundreds of named Community Foundation funds are invested as follows:

IN THE GROWTH OPTION

Growth to a certain benchmark defines this option. Almost the entire portfolio is held in equities. When the fund reaches the intended benchmark, it is transferred to another investment option to start awarding scholarships and/or grants.

IN THE BALANCED GROWTH OPTION

Growing the fund at an acceptable level of risk defines this option that is generally used for quasi-endowment funds. This portfolio has tiered investments, with the majority in equities and smaller amounts in other instruments.

IN THE BALANCED INCOME OPTION

Producing income while growing the fund defines this option generally used for endowment funds. This portfolio holds tiered investments, with the majority in fixed income instruments and smaller amounts in equities and money market funds.

IN THE MAINTENANCE OF PRINCIPAL OPTION

Preservation of principal is this option’s only objective. This portfolio is held in money market accounts and certificates of deposit.

ALTERNATIVE INVESTMENT OPTION

Donors establishing a fund with $500,000 or more may recommend an investment manager and strategy, subject to the approval of the Community Foundation’s Board of Trustees.

ADMINISTRATIVE BUDGET

Because 100 percent of every donation is placed into a charitable fund according to the donor’s instructions, the Community Foundation meets its operational expenses through:

THE ADMINISTRATIVE FUND

This permanent fund was created in 1990 to support the Community Foundation’s operations and community education activities.

MANAGEMENT FEES

An annual management fee is assessed on the market value of each component fund. Please see page 78, “Fund Types,” for detailed information.

THE WIDENING CIRCLES SOCIETY AND PARTNERS IN PHILANTHROPY CAMPAIGN

This annual campaign raises money specifically for the Community Foundation to invest in community outreach to promote philanthropy. Campaign donors become members of the Widening Circles Society and businesses and civic groups who donate become Partners in Philanthropy.
