

GROWTH THAT MATTERS

The 37th Annual Report to the Community | July 2022-June 2023

DEAR SUPPORTERS, PARTNERS, AND FRIENDS,

As we reflect on the achievements of the past year, we are filled with gratitude and pride for the strides we have made in advancing our mission and creating a lasting impact in Frederick County. Fiscal Year 2023 was one of growth, innovation, and collaboration, and we are thrilled to share our accomplishments with you through this Annual Report.

We are excited to announce the successful completion of our strategic plan, which will serve as a guiding light for our organization in the years to come. This plan reflects our unwavering commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion in everything we do. We are determined to be an influencer and advocate, amplifying the voices of those who need it most, and a leader in addressing the most pressing issues facing Frederick County. Furthermore, data will play a central role in driving our organizational decisions, ensuring that our resources are deployed effectively and efficiently.

Collaboration has been a key pillar of our work, and we are proud to highlight our partnership with Frederick County government to combat food insecurity. Through this program, we have funded 13 grants supporting local nonprofit programs, providing essential assistance to those in need.

In line with our dedication to progress, we have embarked on a journey of rebranding and enhanced accessibility. A refreshed logo now represents our modern and cutting-edge approach to philanthropy and grantmaking. Moreover, our new website offers a seamless and engaging experience, making it easier for our stakeholders to interact with us digitally while increasing transparency and accessibility.

Celebrating the dedication of our Cornerstone Society members has been a momentous occasion for us and we were thrilled to meet with them in person this year at our annual luncheon. These individuals have made a lasting commitment to positively impact Frederick County beyond their lifetime by including the Community Foundation in their estate plans. Together, we are building a brighter and more sustainable future for our community.

Despite challenging market conditions, we remained steadfast in our commitment to support local nonprofits and organizations. In FY23, we provided an astounding $7.1 million in grants across various sectors, from civic and cultural initiatives to health and human services, youth programs, historic preservation, and agriculture and animal well-being. These grants are a testament to the strength and resilience of our nonprofit partners who continue to make a difference in the lives of countless individuals.

Education is a cornerstone of progress, and we are thrilled to have awarded $1.8 million in scholarships to 411 deserving students. By investing in their future, we believe we are investing in the future of Frederick County itself.

None of this would have been possible without the unwavering support of each and every one of you. Your trust, dedication, and belief in our mission have been the driving force behind our success. As we move forward, we invite you to join us in continuing this journey of positive change and transformation in our community.

Thank you for being an integral part of our mission and for being a beacon of hope in Frederick County.

With heartfelt appreciation,

Dr. Temple Grandin (right), renowned author and speaker on autism, recently toured the Kitchen Training Program facility at The Arc at Market Street. This program and many other services are offered to people with significant disabilities so they can learn skills, maintain their health, and participate in community activities. The Arc of Frederick County received grants from The Robert P. Lapointe Memorial Fund, The Jeanne Bussard Center Endowment Fund, The Arc of Frederick County Endowment Fund, The Charles V. Main/Presidents Fund for the Former Jeanne Bussard Center, The Believer's Club Fund, The H. B. and Thelma B. Duvall Fund for The Arc on Market, The H. Deets and Juanita Warfield Donor Advised Fund, The Gordon M. and Teresa Warfield Cooley Charitable Gift Fund, The Martha Murphy Virts Memorial Fund, The James A. and Carmen B. Schmersahl Charitable Fund, and The Arc of Frederick County Betty Ann Ramsburg Endowment Fund.

The Walter W. and Catharine Prentiss Plummer Endowment Fund supported the conservation efforts of the Chesapeake Bay Foundation, specifically the Frederick County area. Volunteers plant trees along stream beds throughout the Monocacy Watershed to protect water quality and prevent erosion.

Hope Valley Farm offers a serene country space for outdoor education and recreation. Thanks to a grant from The Easels in Frederick Fund, supplies such as portable easels and stools were purchased for the outdoor art program. Grants from The Sharon I. Hooper Fund for Children and The Mary Gregg Cornish Memorial Fund also supported Hope Valley Farm's family fun day on the farm and growing with kids programs.

Frederick Health Hospice received grants from The Kiwanis Club of Frederick Fund and The John L. and Lucille H. Ponton Charitable Fund to support Camp Jamie, a grief camp for children, adolescents, and teens. Camp Jamie helps children and teens learn coping skills and process their feelings related to the death of someone special in their lives. Professional grief counselors and trained volunteers provide education, activities and therapy in a safe environment.

The Ranch is a residential care facility that provides education, therapy, and a safe atmosphere for individuals affected by substance use disorder. Located on 204 acres in Southern Frederick County, roof renovations were made to the largest structure on the campus, The Shaw Building. The building, which houses a full-sized basketball gym, weight room, music room, recreation room, and a group meeting room, was in danger of being closed if repairs weren't made. Thanks to a grant from The Ruth Ann Wells Memorial Endowment Fund for The Ranch, the roof has been completely restored.

Music therapy is among the many programs offered to residents at Homewood to promote social participation, mobility, and activity. The specially trained staff recognize the special needs of people with Alzheimer's disease and other memory-related impairments. STRATEGIC PRIORITY:
SUPPORTING FAMILIES WITH CHILDREN

LITERACY COUNCIL OF FREDERICK COUNTY

Fourteen years ago Ana moved to the U.S. from Mexico. Today, she is married and has three children – a son, 18 and two daughters, 10 and 8 years old. There are plenty of challenges to starting a new life in another country, including the language barriers that impact every facet of life. Three years ago, Ana started participating in a parent literacy program hosted by the Literacy Council at Waverly Elementary School, and it's changing her life.

Ana says she felt left out of conversations with her daughters, who can both speak English, and she found it challenging to understand what was happening with her children's schooling and advocate for them when necessary. At times she struggled to keep up with conversations when in public, at the grocery store or bank, and felt that people were sometimes unkind or impatient with her because she couldn't speak English.

Then, an opportunity presented itself at her children's school and while she knew it would be a lot of work, she jumped at the chance to learn the language.

"I needed to learn another language because my kids speak another language," Ana said. She added "Here the school system is very different than in my country and I don't understand a lot of stuff. Here [Waverly Elementary School] there are people who speak Spanish to help explain things but what happens when our kids go to middle school and high school? So I need to learn English so I can understand and deal with problems myself."

For the last five years, the Literacy Council has worked with Frederick County Public Schools (FCPS) and the Judy Centers to reach parents, referred by the school liaison staff, whose young children attend Title I elementary schools and who need to improve their literacy skills. According to Sarah Fowkes, Program Manager at the Literacy Council, the program has grown from two elementary schools to five with dedicated classes and tutoring provided at the schools during school hours, eliminating the barriers of transportation and childcare that often prevent parents from seeking help. The program helps the parent to interact with the school and to be an active participant in the education of their child in addition to the general benefits of improved literacy.

In its effort to support families with children in Frederick County, the Community Foundation provided the Literacy Council with a strategic grant of $10,000 to help pave the way for families like Ana's.

Ana has come a long way in her English literacy journey. She jokes that now her kids can no longer talk about her in a language she doesn't understand, and with the confidence she has gained from being able to speak English, she has become an active volunteer at the school and a mentor to other immigrant parents.

"Often she represents others that don't necessarily have that courage yet to engage with the school community," said John Bruton, the Literacy Council volunteer who runs the classes. "She empowered herself by taking advantage of this resource, and now she's empowering other women too by encouraging them to learn English and get involved."

"She's a star," said Claudia Hernandez, Program Administrator for Judy Centers. "As a parent and immigrant in this county, she's using the resources available to her to be a viable contributing part of the community in Frederick."

While Ana is active in her children's school, she's also been very busy doing other things. She said she found free classes at the library in Baltimore to help her learn about running a small business, and with that under her belt, she and her husband launched a cleaning business last year. She smiles when she says she'll take almost any free class she can find.

"She's going to grab any opportunity she can get," John said as he beamed with pride at Ana, his very ambitious and successful student.

The Jessica Lee Murphy Memorial Fund, The Visual Arts Field of Interest Fund, and The Pritchett Family Foundation Fund provided grant support for City Youth Matrix for their family empowerment and education program. The grants also strengthened City Youth Matrix's mission of offering extracurricular activities for youth in families with limited resources.

Grants from The Richard W. Kanode Charitable Fund, The Scher Family Fund, The Kiwanis Club of Frederick Fund, The Pritchett Family Foundation Fund, and The Roger and Golda Delauter Memorial Fund supported Children of Incarcerated Parents Partnership (COIPP). COIPP is a nonprofit organization dedicated to fostering the growth of children who are impacted by a parent who is incarcerated. At a holiday drive during the winter, board member Ivania Amador and her family pass out "Snowman Soup" (hot cocoa kits) to families served by COIPP.

The Preparing for an Aging Population Strategic Initiatives Fund provided a grant to Centro Hispano de Frederick in support of their Golden Years program, which provides enrichment and learning activities for seniors. Centro Hispano de Frederick also received grants from The Juana Delgado Rivas Fund for Centro Hispano de Frederick, Inc. and The Supporting Families with Children Strategic Initiatives Fund, enabling them to continue their mission of assisting immigrants in Frederick County.

Transformative Arts Project offers programs that empower communities through creative expression, from traditional art to photography, amplifying individual voices in the process. Grants from The Rosebud Frederick Senior Support Fund, The Edgar and Geraldine Virts Memorial Fund, and The Easels in Frederick Fund supported these efforts, such as the Creative Aging and Technology program shown here, where seniors learned new skills using today's technology.

A grant from The Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Nicodemus Family Fund supported The George B. Delaplaine, Jr. School of Business at Hood College. The School of Business provides high quality education in the areas of business and economics to students studying industry, government, and civil society. Other Hood College programs, such as Data Driven Frederick, Blue and Gold Club, and the annual fund were supported by grants from The Alden E. and Harriet K. Fisher Fund, The Lewis I. and Catherine L. Clark Memorial Fund, and The James H. and Amy N. Clapp Family Fund.

Family Partnership of Frederick County supports families with children, striving to improve those in ALICE (Asset Limited, Income Constrained, Employed) households. Grants from The Supporting Families with Children Strategic Initiatives Fund and The Brunswick Area Fund were awarded for their family resilience program and for family enrichment programs in the Brunswick area. One of the many facets to their programs is parent and child together time, as shown here, when parents have meaningful time with their children to interact, learn, and have fun.

STRATEGIC PRIORITY:
PREPARING FOR AN AGING POPULATION

SUPPORTING OLDER ADULTS THROUGH RESOURCES (SOAR)

It was the mid-1970s and Leo was living a full life – he was employed, married, wrote poetry and made a little money on the side playing pool. A lifetime resident of Frederick, he was one of seven children growing up (six sisters) and says his mom was his best friend. And then, at 26 years old, he was involved in a workplace chemical accident that knocked his world off kilter, starting him on a path he couldn't have imagined.

He says following the accident he spent years in and out of the hospital, was unable to work, and was on a lot of medication to deal with the injuries and pain. "That chemical leak sorta destroyed me," Leo recalls. "I finally lost my sanity and was hospitalized."

Years turned into decades. Leo says he was unable to work due to the injuries he sustained and illnesses that resulted over the years. It was a tough journey, but he says "something kept telling me 'you'll be alright, you're going to make it' and some days that hope is what I lived on."

Now 72, Leo says that a couple years ago he was in a really tough place. He was in very poor health and he did not have a home. In a series of small miracles, Leo was taken in by a family living in Emmitsburg and was able to eventually secure housing in Frederick. Once he had an apartment, he was connected with SOAR (Supporting Older Adults Through Resources, Inc.) and that connection altered Leo's world again, but this time in a very good way.

"I had sorta given up on life because so many awful things happened," Leo says. "But then I met [the people at] SOAR and I've never really had anyone in my life that wanted to help me like that."

SOAR Founder and Executive Director Leslie Schultz says that their first priority upon meeting Leo was to help him get his health in check. SOAR sent an occupational therapist to assess home safety needs and based on those recommendations, purchased Leo an electric lift chair, walker, and shower chair so that he could age in place safely. They also assisted with paying co-pays so he could see medical specialists.

SOAR then addressed concerns about Leo being isolated and lonely - they arranged for him to spend two days a week at Daybreak, a day program for seniors where they can engage and socialize with others, under the care of trained medical and support staff. SOAR also provides food support for Leo.

"They helped me in ways that I couldn't financially provide for myself," Leo says, always with a beaming smile when talking about his friends at SOAR. "They helped me financially, but also they helped me get physically healthy. They helped me in every way I needed."

Financial support and health resources mean a lot to Leo but what stands out the most for him is the way in which the assistance was delivered. Leo says he was always treated with respect and dignity by Leslie and her team at SOAR. He said they helped restore his faith in humanity after decades of feeling forgotten, mistreated, and generally lost.

"I was severely injured in my life. I didn't trust people because I was never compensated for the terrible things that happened to me. When I met SOAR, they were straight with me. If they couldn't do something, they didn't beat around the bush, they were honest, and told it to me straight."

SOAR's mission is to assist Frederick County's 65 and older residents whose monthly incomes do not exceed $2,100, by providing financial assistance or accessing resources on their behalf. Frederick County's aging population is underserved, and growing. According to SOAR, there is an increasing demand for support and limited resources.

The Community Foundation provided SOAR with a $51,000 grant to provide emergency financial assistance for low-income seniors who are aging in place.

"We don't want to just provide a Band-aid," Leslie said. "We want to help provide what is necessary for them to age in place."

Leo says he finds joy in spending time at Daybreak and just sitting at the park people watching. While he hasn't written poetry since his injury more than 45 years ago, he says his sister encourages him to put pen to paper again. More than anything, it seems that Leo has found comfort in a community of people committed to his well-being. He still can't believe the family in Emmitsburg opened their home to a stranger and he counts his blessings every day that SOAR is in his corner.

"These kinds of things break my heart in a gorgeous way," Leo says with a grin and shake of his head.

"But then I met [the people at] SOAR and I've never really had anyone in my life that wanted to help me like that."

STRATEGIC PRIORITY:
RESPONDING TO SUBSTANCE USE DISORDER

PHOENIX RECOVERY ACADEMY

Rayhan sits comfortably in a lounge chair in a sunlit room, he smiles with a shy confidence and speaks eloquently about his teenage years that were chaotic and troubling. Rayhan is 17 and he is a student at Phoenix Recovery Academy, a place where he says he can finally process the addiction and trauma that are behind him, and where he feels secure enough to begin building a bright future.

It's unnerving to hear someone so young talk about their experience with drug addiction, hospitalization, suicide attempts, and an assumption that he would not live to see 18. Rayhan, now a resident of Frederick, grew up in Virginia and by the age of 15 was addicted to crystal meth and spiraling. He says he was hospitalized in 2020 for a suicide attempt and spent the next year in and out of various treatment programs. In the summer of 2021, he started attending Phoenix Recovery Academy and while he says it took time to acclimate and find his place, he says the organization and the people there likely saved his life, or at least offered him the building blocks for a better life.

"When I got here, it was a warm, welcoming environment and I felt loved immediately and they didn't care about all the external stuff, they just cared that I was here."

While he says he felt welcomed at the school, Rayhan admits that the first year was very challenging. He says he was stubborn and defiant and spent the first ten months closed off. "It took me hitting a bunch of emotional lows to realize that I'm blowing up my life and I need to get my sh*t% together."

He was told that if he didn't start doing what he needed to do, he was going to get kicked out of the school and he says at that point he started engaging and being emotionally vulnerable and responding to the school's programs. "Since then, my life is beyond my wildest dreams. I have friendships that aren't transactional and real relationships where we talk and that's really special and important. I have people that I can rely on and I trust to share with."

Responding to substance use disorder is one of the Community Foundation's strategic areas of focus. The Phoenix Recovery Academy received a $20,000 grant to support its Recovery High School program for adolescents in recovery.

Heather Whitcomb, executive director at Phoenix Recovery Academy, said the school is approved by the Maryland State Department of Education to provide high school curriculum and recovery support for students in grades 9-12.

"We are unique in that we are the only recovery high school in Maryland and recovery high schools are effective due to our small class sizes (10:1 student/teacher ratio) that offer individualized instruction, close knit, positive peer pressure environment, peer support within the school day, and daily support groups," Heather says.

Heather points out that the school's mission is important to Frederick County and surrounding areas because they are providing early intervention, which is key.

Rayhan says that the first thing he tells new students is that the school can be the worst thing, if that's what they make it, that it's all about a person's willingness to engage and let the program work.

"When I was an active addict, I didn't think I'd make it to 18. I think about the stark change from when I was snorting meth in my room at 2 a.m. to now where I wake up at 6 a.m. and go to school and then go to an internship at the State's Attorney's office," Rayhan said while shaking his head. "The transition from that life to what I have now is all thanks to this school."

Rayhan lives with his mom in Frederick, and he is on track to graduate in the spring. He plans to go to college – he's looking at schools like Georgetown University and New York University among others – and says he is still exploring potential career paths but is considering studying in fields like law or investment banking.

"I definitely want to stay involved with this school and do whatever I can to support what they're doing. They are doing great work to destigmatize addiction."

Tank is an active puppy and tried to jump down a short set of stairs, causing a break in his leg that led to amputation. Frederick County Humane Society received a grant from The Converse Family Endowment Fund that helped cover the cost of the surgery. Tank has recovered and is doing well!

Frederick County 4H Therapeutic Riding Program has been providing safe and positive horseback riding experiences for individuals with disabilities since 1984. In this photo, Jackson holds Star's rein as he learns basic skills and gains self-confidence from interaction with the horse and guidance from the instructor. Grants from The C. Rodman and M. Jean Ogle Myers Fund, The Frederick County 4-H Therapeutic Riding Program Fund, and The Kiwanis Club of Frederick Fund supported the riding program this year.

HOW TO APPLY FOR A GRANT:

The Community Foundation conducts two annual competitive grant cycles for nonprofits working to impact lives in Frederick County.

STRATEGIC GRANTS are focused on outcome-driven projects that will help accomplish our strategic initiatives in the areas of supporting families with children, preparing for an aging population, and responding to substance use disorder. IMPACT GRANTS are for any project that will make a critical difference in Frederick County. Both of these types of grants are made possible by the Community Foundation's funding partners, unrestricted funds, selected donor-advised funds, and field of interest funds.

The Strategic and Impact grant cycles open in the summer of each year with grant decisions announced in the fall. Other grant opportunities are available throughout the year and are referred to as "rolling grants." All applications must be completed online.

The Community Foundation's Grants Committee carefully reviews each application for the merit of the proposal and compliance with the funds' criteria for grantmaking. In addition, the Community Foundation performs due diligence on each application to ensure that organizations are in good standing at the federal and state level. Grants are limited to 501c3 nonprofit organizations, existing governmental/quasi-governmental agencies, organizations applying for a project not funded by tax revenue, faith-based organizations requesting funding for non-sectarian activities, and civic groups requesting funding for a charitable cause.

All grantees are required to submit reports to the Community Foundation on the use and impact of the grants.

SCHOLARSHIPS

How to apply for a scholarship

The Community Foundation has been the leading source for post-secondary scholarship funding in Frederick County for more than three decades. We hold more than 270 scholarships, each with unique qualifying criteria. By completing one application, students will automatically be considered for all scholarships for which they qualify. All applications are reviewed by a volunteer Scholarship Selection Committee that narrows each scholarship pool to the most qualified applicant(s).

We have supported thousands of students who are working towards degrees and certifications and studying in every field. We also recognize that many students face barriers to achieving their educational dreams and that many educational dreams do not include attending college. In addition to providing academic scholarship support, the Community Foundation also provides grants and scholarships to help students pay for training at accredited trade or technical schools, certification exams, tools, and other necessary supplies for study or work in the trades.

Learn more about how the Community Foundation helps individuals pursue their educational dreams at www.ScholarshipsFrederickCounty.com.

PAST SCHOLAR SUCCESS STORIES

KATIE STEVENS

In 2005, Katie Stevens graduated from Walkersville High School with a plan for her future – attend college and then return to the family farm to carry on the tradition of milking cows.

However, as a first-generation college student, Katie faced financial constraints that seemed insurmountable, especially for a family of first-generation dairy farmers.

The scholarships she received from The Dudrow Scholarship Fund and The Robert and Ann Miller Family Fund allowed her to transfer from Frederick Community College to Virginia Tech where she pursued her passion for dairy science. She says the scholarship not only eased her financial burdens but also allowed her to embark on an educational journey that would shape her future in unforeseen ways.

Today Katie is the mother of three children under the age of four, and alongside her husband, she manages a family farming business that thrives. Katie also plays a pivotal role at the Frederick County Office of Economic Development, where she serves as the director of Agriculture and Small Business Services. She says her mission is clear – she wants to help farmers, ensuring they never face heart-wrenching conversations about the inability to preserve their family legacies.

PARKER ROHRBAUGH

For Parker Rohrbaugh, earning an academic scholarship was more than just a way to pay for college, it also affirmed that the 2013 Catoctin graduate was on the right path.

“As a first-generation college student, it was very special and reaffirming that I was on a path to success.”

Parker received a scholarship from The Frank M. and Helen Erwin Scholarship Fund that alleviated the financial burden and reduced the stress associated with pursuing his undergraduate degree. Parker studied nursing at Pennsylvania State University.

Parker says a decade ago he couldn't have imagined where he'd be now. He is a pediatric nurse practitioner in acute care at the Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh. He says he is grateful for the opportunities and support he has received and that he cherishes the relationships he's developed in his professional community. With unwavering determination and a deep sense of purpose, Parker continues to pursue his path in pediatrics, aiming to make a meaningful difference in the lives of young patients and their families.

SETT NAING, MD

Dr. Sett Naing always knew he wanted to be a doctor. The 2013 Frederick High School graduate said he wants to help heal people and communities.

Financial support from The Frederick High School Centennial Scholarship Fund helped him finance his undergraduate education and gain momentum to achieve his dream of becoming a doctor.

After graduating from University of Maryland in 2016, he spent a year conducting molecular research in the area of opioid addiction at the National Institutes of Health in Baltimore. Dr. Naing is currently a resident at Wake Forest Baptist Medical Center in Winston-Salem, NC.

Dr. Naing says he plans to become a primary care physician working with an underserved population. "Coming from an immigrant family, I experienced what healthcare challenges these underserved patients face. So, I know I can use my own personal experience to empathize with these patients and find solutions to their health care barriers."

ARIANA SADOUGHI

In 2015 Ariana Sadoughi graduated from Urbana High School's esteemed International Baccalaureate Academy.

She says that her family's financial resources and the initial aid package she received fell short of what was required to make Georgetown University a reality. But then, everything took a transformative turn for the better when she learned that she received a scholarship from The W. Meredith S. Young and Helen B. Young Scholarship Fund.

"The Community Foundation's generosity did not just make it possible for me to attend my 'dream' university, but it allowed me to explore personal and professional development that might otherwise not have been accessible to me." Ariana proudly graduated in 2019 from the Walsh School of Foreign Service at Georgetown University where she studied Global Business and Spanish.

Fast forward to the present where Ariana finds herself in the heart of the financial world. She's found balance with the noise, intensity, and excitement of Wall Street all while volunteering as a member of the associate board of directors for Read Alliance, a nonprofit in New York City focused on tackling both teenage underemployment and early elementary literacy. Ariana says she continues to focus on nurturing her leadership potential.

CREATING AND GROWING A FUND

First, establish your goals.

Do you want to make your gift now, or establish your fund with a planned gift? Do you want to provide grants and/or scholarships now or after your passing? Establishing a fund with the Community Foundation is a wonderful way to sustain a cause that is near and dear to you, support specific areas of education, honor loved ones or establish a legacy. Once you've decided on your goals, the Community Foundation staff can help you determine the type of fund that will ensure your charitable goals are met.

Gifts can be made now, or a fund can be established with a planned gift that will come to fruition after your lifetime. Either way, the Community Foundation is available to work through varying scenarios to find a path forward that best suits the needs of the individual donor.

Founded through Robert C. Mount's estate, The Robert C. and Winifred A. Mount Memorial Scholarship Fund was established for students attending any two- or four- year college, trade and technical school or post-graduate program. The fund honors the memory of Mr. and Mrs. Mount and will continue their legacy by assisting students for many years to come.

NEXT, DETERMINE A SUITABLE NAME FOR THE FUND.

There are many ways to name a fund. Many funds include the donor's name or name(s) of those being honored by the fund. Some fund names reference the specific cause or organization they benefit.

DETERMINE WHAT TYPE OF GIFT YOU WOULD LIKE TO USE TO START THE FUND.

While many funds are started with gifts of cash totaling $25,000 or more, non-cash gifts such as real estate, securities or life insurance are also options. For gifts of $500,000 or more, you may recommend an investment professional outside of the Community Foundation's investment pool, pending certain criteria. Your financial advisors can help you determine what type of gift to use, and the Community Foundation encourages you to consult with them prior to making your gift.

DECIDE HOW INVOLVED YOU WANT TO BE WITH THE FUND.

Do you want to review grant applications? Do you want to sit on a scholarship selection committee? Do you want the comfort of knowing that a check is sent to your favorite cause each year? Do you want your family to be involved with the fund after your passing? Your intended involvement helps to determine the type of fund that you choose.

IF YOU'D LIKE TO CONTRIBUTE LESS THAN $25,000, DON'T WORRY.

You can "plant a seed" by starting a fund and becoming a member of the Acorn Society. Simply select a name for the fund and agree to grow the fund to at least $25,000 within two years or less. Once your fund reaches $25,000, disbursements can be made. Other ways to create impact include contributing to a field of interest fund or any of our other funds, or establishing your legacy by deciding on a planned gift. No matter how much you decide to contribute, the Community Foundation makes the act of giving easy.

Types of Funds

The Community Foundation of Frederick County holds two categories of funds: permanent funds and pass through funds. Permanent funds generally never spend the initial gift and subsequent gifts, with a portion of the fund supporting the charitable purpose defined by the fund's founding donor. Permanent funds include endowed funds and quasi-endowed funds. Endowed funds distribute 5 percent of the annual market value, never invading gift principal. Quasi-endowed funds distribute 5 percent of the fund's annual market value each year. Pass through funds may distribute all gifts as well as the investment return for the charitable purpose. Permanent funds and pass through funds may be any of the following types of funds: designated, unrestricted, donor-advised, scholarship, field of interest, agency, or fiscal sponsorship. You can start a named fund for as little as $25,000—using cash, securities, real estate, life insurance, art, or other assets. For more information about types of funds, please see page 74.

Property You Can Use to Create Your Fund

Some people have asked if the Community Foundation accepts only cash contributions. The answer is no. There are many ways to establish a fund. Some ideas you may wish to consider are listed here.

CASH

You may establish your fund by giving a check to the Community Foundation. You receive the maximum tax deduction for your contribution in the year you make it. Any unused deduction can ordinarily be used over the five succeeding years.

SECURITIES

You may donate securities to your fund. You get the maximum tax deduction, equal to the current value of the securities. If that deduction is larger than what you can use in the year of your gift, the excess amount may ordinarily be deducted over the five succeeding years.

If the securities are appreciated, you pay no capital gains tax. If you own depreciated securities, it may be best if you sell them, take the loss for personal income tax purposes, and contribute the proceeds to the Community Foundation.

REAL ESTATE

Your real estate holdings can also benefit charity. Gifts of long-term appreciated real estate offer advantages similar to gifts of appreciated securities. Real estate will be accepted by the Community Foundation if it is readily saleable and does not require long-term management. You are required to obtain an appraisal to establish the value of the real estate for your tax deduction.

LIFE INSURANCE

You may donate your life insurance policy to your fund. You receive an immediate tax deduction, usually in an amount equal to the cash surrender value. If you wish to keep the policy in force, your continued premium payments are tax deductible if the Community Foundation is the owner of the policy. If you don't want to give up the policy, you can name the Community Foundation as a full or partial beneficiary.

ART AND OTHER TANGIBLE PERSONAL PROPERTY

You may use your paintings, sculptures, jewelry, etc. to establish a charitable fund as long as the property can be sold easily. You will be responsible for obtaining an appraisal to establish the value of the personal property for your tax deduction.

CREATING AND GROWING A FUND

Ways to Establish or Expand a Fund

OUTRIGHT GIFT DURING YOUR LIFETIME

An outright gift is the simplest of all gifts to make and can be made now. It provides the greatest and most immediate support. The most common way to make an outright gift is a gift of cash, which can be used to establish your own fund, or can be added to an existing fund. In addition to a gift of cash, outright gifts can be in the form of publicly-traded securities or by transferring other assets directly to the Community Foundation.

BEQUEST

Perhaps you are making decisions on a new will. You have taken care of all the usual details, assigned sentimental possessions, and provided for relatives.

You can stipulate that all remaining assets go to create your fund or to add to an existing fund, possibly significantly reducing the taxes payable by your estate. Your fund will support community needs in your name permanently.

Or, you simply write a codicil (amendment) to your existing will. You state that in addition to or instead of certain provisions of that will, you would like to leave the remaining assets, or a specific dollar amount, to the Community Foundation for whatever purpose you determine. Your lawyer can assist you in making this change. The Community Foundation also has suggested language for making provisions in your will.

CHARITABLE LEAD TRUST

You may want to defer income to a later date. Or you may have provided for your children already or you may want to provide for your children in the future, but not now. With a charitable lead trust, you donate part of your estate to the trust now, and the income goes to your fund for a designated period of years. Your taxes are reduced and the property is not taxed to your children. After a period of time that you specify, the trust terminates and the assets go to your designees. The charity benefits during all those years and your designees may receive much more than they would have otherwise.

GIFTS FROM AN ESTATE OR TRUST

As the Personal Representative under a will, you are directed to allocate a certain amount of money for general charitable purposes. Some professional guidance may be helpful to you.

You may set up a fund within the Community Foundation in the name of the deceased. With the approval of the court, if necessary, you arrange to have the charitable portion of the estate paid to this fund. The Community Foundation would then assume the responsibility of carrying out the deceased's charitable interests.

LIFE INCOME (CHARITABLE REMAINDER) TRUST

You may have achieved a fairly comfortable accumulation of assets, but would like an income for yourself, your spouse, or other beneficiaries for the rest of your lives. Ultimately you want charity to benefit from your estate.

You can establish a charitable remainder trust that pays you and/or your designees for your lifetimes, with the remainder of the trust going to your fund. You receive a substantial income tax deduction and estate taxes will be reduced upon your death. If you prefer, you can establish a charitable remainder trust in your will, providing a life income for surviving beneficiaries. Because of the charitable estate tax deduction, the surviving beneficiaries may receive a larger income than would otherwise be possible.

Two Types of Charitable Remainder Trusts:

ANNUITY TRUST

A fixed income trust from which you or your beneficiaries will receive a set amount each year.

UNITRUST

A variable income trust from which you or your beneficiaries will receive a percentage of the trust's assets. Changes in the asset value of the trust will affect the level of your income each year.

The minimum amount recommended for a charitable remainder trust is $100,000.

ASSIGNMENT OF TRUST FUND INCOME

You may be the beneficiary of a trust which pays you a regular income. Even though you may give some of this income to charity, you may not receive maximum tax benefits.

If you assign to your fund a portion of this annual income for the benefit of charity, you pay no further tax on this income. In addition, you may take an immediate income tax deduction for the value of this assignment. If this deduction is more than you can use in the year of the assignment, the excess may ordinarily be deducted over the five succeeding years.

CORPORATE FUNDS

Perhaps you are an executive in a business or corporation, responsible in part for corporate giving. How do you sift through the blizzard of charitable appeals?

You can establish a fund with the Community Foundation, either in the name of the corporation or an anonymous name. The Community Foundation then distributes the gift for you, relieving you of this burden.

CHARITABLE GIFT ANNUITY

When you want to make a gift of cash or appreciated property and receive fixed payments for the rest of your life, you can create a Charitable Gift Annuity agreement with the Community Foundation. At the end of your life the Community Foundation receives the remainder of the gift. A portion of most gift annuity payments are tax free, and the remainder of the income is taxed at ordinary rates and possibly capital gains rates.

TRANSFER YOUR FOUNDATION'S ASSETS

If you are a trustee of a private foundation, you may establish a fund within the Community Foundation in the name of the private foundation. After arranging to transfer all or part of the assets of the foundation to the fund, the Community Foundation takes care of all the paperwork required by the government. Investments are handled by experienced people. Taxes are no longer imposed, and the amount available for charity is increased. You are secure in knowing that the fund will be administered permanently by the Community Foundation.

TRANSFER A CHARITABLE ORGANIZATION'S ASSETS

Perhaps you are on the board of directors of a charitable organization which is terminating. You may create a fund within the Community Foundation in the name of your organization. You liquidate the assets in accordance with all laws and IRS regulations and transfer them to the fund, specifying that the income will be used only for grants in a similar field of interest. The mission of your organization is thereby continued in perpetuity.

The Kay F. and Douglas K. Sheiss Fund was created by Mrs. Sheiss to honor her and her late husband, Douglas, and their commitment to the Frederick County community. Mrs. Sheiss believed that the unrestricted element of the fund would provide the greatest impact and carry out their charitable intentions for generations.

FUND PERFORMANCE

Well-managed charitable funds benefit our community now and in perpetuity. Donors start funds with a minimum gift of $25,000 to benefit the causes that they choose. These funds are then invested, with a portion of the funds spent each year according to the spending policies that the donors choose at the time the funds are established.

Professional investment managers invest the Community Foundation's assets in accordance with the Community Foundation's investment policies. Investment performance is monitored and overseen by the Investment Committee, comprised of Community Foundation trustees and others with investment expertise. The Community Foundation's financial statements, including investments, contributions, and future interests, are audited annually by an independent auditor and are available for public review.

Investment Options

Hundreds of named Community Foundation funds are invested as follows:

THE GROWTH OPTION

Growth to a certain benchmark defines this option. Almost the entire portfolio is held in equities. When the fund reaches the intended benchmark, it is transferred to another investment option to start awarding scholarships and/or grants.

THE BALANCED GROWTH OPTION

Growing the fund at an acceptable level of risk defines this option that is generally used for quasi-endowment funds. This portfolio has tiered investments, with the majority in equities and smaller amounts in other instruments.

THE BALANCED INCOME OPTION

Producing income while growing the fund defines this option generally used for endowment funds. This portfolio holds tiered investments, with the majority in fixed income instruments and smaller amounts in equities and money market funds.

THE MAINTENANCE OF PRINCIPAL OPTION

Preservation of principal is this option's only objective. This portfolio is held in money market accounts and certificates of deposit.

THE ALTERNATIVE INVESTMENT OPTION

Donors establishing a fund with $500,000 or more may recommend an investment manager and strategy, subject to the approval of the Community Foundation's Board of Trustees.

Administrative Budget

Because 100 percent of every donation is placed into a charitable fund according to the donor's instructions, the Community Foundation meets its operational expenses through:

THE ADMINISTRATIVE FUND

This permanent fund was created in 1990 to support the Community Foundation's operations and community education activities.

MANAGEMENT FEES

An annual management fee is assessed on the market value of each component fund. Please see page 74, "Fund Types," for detailed information.

THE WIDENING CIRCLES SOCIETY AND PARTNERS IN PHILANTHROPY CAMPAIGN

This annual campaign raises money specifically for the Community Foundation to invest in community outreach to promote philanthropy. Campaign donors become members of the Widening Circles Society and businesses and civic groups who donate become Partners in Philanthropy.
